The Best Places to Go

Outside has been to every corner of the globe, and we've found some of the most amazing places to adventure. Here are a few of our favorites:

- Patagonia, Chile: Patagonia is a vast and wild region of mountains, glaciers, and forests. It's home to some of the best hiking, climbing, and kayaking in the world.

- The Grand Canyon, USA: The Grand Canyon is one of the most iconic natural wonders in the world. It's a massive gorge that was carved by the Colorado River over millions of years. You can hike, raft, or even fly through the canyon.
- The Great Barrier Reef, Australia: The Great Barrier Reef is the largest coral reef in the world. It's home to an incredible diversity of marine life, including fish, turtles, sharks, and whales. You can snorkel, scuba dive, or take a boat tour to explore the reef.
- The Himalayas, Nepal: The Himalayas are the highest mountains in the world. They're home to some of the most challenging and rewarding trekking routes in the world. You can trek to Everest Base Camp, or climb to the summit of Mount Everest itself.
- Antarctica: Antarctica is the coldest, driest, and highest continent on Earth. It's home to a unique ecosystem that includes penguins, seals, and whales. You can take a cruise to Antarctica, or go on an expedition to the South Pole.

The Best Gear to Buy

In addition to providing information on the best places to go, Outside also tests and reviews the best gear for adventure travel. Here are a few of our favorite pieces of gear:

- Backpack: A good backpack is essential for any adventure. It should be comfortable to wear, durable, and have enough space for all of your gear. We recommend the Osprey Atmos AG 65 for men and the Osprey Aura AG 65 for women.

- Hiking boots: Hiking boots are another essential piece of gear for adventure travel. They should provide good support and traction, and be comfortable to wear for long periods of time. We recommend the Salomon X Ultra 3 Mid GTX for men and the Salomon X Ultra 3 Mid GTX for women.
- Tent: A tent is essential for camping trips. It should be waterproof, windproof, and have enough space for all of your gear. We recommend the REI Co-op Half Dome 2+ for two people and the REI Co-op Half Dome 4+ for four people.
- Sleeping bag: A sleeping bag is essential for keeping you warm at night. It should be rated for the climate you'll be camping in. We recommend the REI Co-op Magma 15 for warm weather camping and the REI Co-op Magma 30 for cold weather camping.
- Headlamp: A headlamp is essential for any adventure, whether you're hiking, camping, or climbing. It allows you to see in the dark without having to hold a flashlight. We recommend the Petzl Tikka for a basic headlamp and the Petzl Iko Core for a more advanced headlamp.

The Best Stories to Read

In addition to providing information on the best places to go and the best gear to buy, Outside also publishes some of the best adventure stories in the world. Here are a few of our favorite stories:

- "The Great White Shark" by John Hersey: This classic story tells the tale of a great white shark that terrorizes a small New England town. It's a gripping and suspenseful read that will stay with you long after you finish it.

- "Into the Wild" by Jon Krakauer: This bestselling book tells the story of Christopher McCandless, a young man who abandoned his comfortable life to live in the Alaskan wilderness. It's a powerful and thought-provoking story that will make you question your own life choices.
- "Wild" by Cheryl Strayed: This memoir tells the story of Cheryl Strayed's 1,100-mile hike on the Pacific Crest Trail. It's a raw and honest account of her journey, both physically and emotionally. It's a powerful and inspiring story that will make you want to get outside and explore the world.
- "The Man Who Walked Through Time" by Colin Fletcher: This book tells the story of Colin Fletcher's 2,000-mile hike from Mexico to Canada. It's a classic adventure story that will make you want to lace up your boots and hit the trail.
- "The Call of the Wild" by Jack London: This classic novel tells the story of Buck, a dog who is stolen from his home and sold to a sled team in the Yukon. It's a powerful and moving story that will make you appreciate the bond between humans and animals.
